

AMENDED CLAIMS

[received by the International Bureau on 20 August 2004 (20.08.04);
original 2-6 cancelled, original claim 1 amended, claim 2 new. (1 page)]

1. A simplified, reusable Insulated Bottle for carrying cold water, characterized by the combination of a portable, rigid polymer, single walled, standable Receptacle
5 enclosing a dissimilar, remove to drink, closure-capped polymer Bottle, said Receptacle comprising a cylindric, hollow, first end open, second end closed, inner having full length vertical inwardly spaced ribs, outer grooved, Body, and a hollow, straight walled, flat based, shorter
10 Upper Cup, said Bottle being stored in a standing, restrained, base resting, body mostly spaced apart manner, with said closure cap's top being kept down by said Body secured said Upper Cup's flat inner, said Bottle's maximum external width being less than least internal widths of 15 said Body and said Upper Cup, said Body taking alternatively an upright, standard 12 oz can, said Receptacle taking alternatively, an upright can of width similar to said 12 oz can but taller.

2. A Cup of a Receptacle comprising a Body and a Cup which 20 jointly enclose an upright Bottle or an upright can, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the said separated Cup can be placed outer base downwardly on a level surface to hold in a stable manner, the base upwards portion of the placed said Bottle or said can with, the said Bottle's or said
25 can's base resting on said Cup's inner base.

***